The state U D C convention will be held at the Confederate Home, Pewee Valley, Oct 3 and 4.

Every member of the Knights of Pythias lodge is urged to be present at the meeting tomorrow (Friday night).

Dr G Chris Faris has broken ground for a neat and substantial residence on his lot (the Reid place) on Richmond street.

The residence of John Ball, on Stanford street, caught fire early Tuesday morning, but the prompt arrival of the hose wagon prevented much damage.

The town clock, which has been doing duty since the memory of man, met not to the contrary, is worn out. If the bond issue carries, a new and good one will be installed.

If the people of Garrard wish to preserve the county records, as well as their deeds and other important papers, they should vote for the bond issue to repair the court house.

The fiscal court is entitled to a vote of thanks for ordering a vote on the question of having the court house repaired. Vote "YES" and let's preserve the records, as well as have a decent building.

Judging from the number of pianos West & Herron are placing in Garrard, every rat will be run out of the county by Christmas. They received one order of six Saturday, and are delivering one almost every day.

Theo. Percifer, brother of William Percifer, dropped dead in Lexington, Sunday. His body was brought here Sunday afternoon and buried in the Lancaster Cemetery. He was well known in Lancaster and vicinity.

Sales by W T Ewing Real Estate Agency, Harrodsburg, Ky., 100 acres for Geo. Miller, near Harrodsburg to Robert Forsythe at $60 an acre. 100 acres near same city for A J Waddle to Sam Moore at $85 an acre. Residence property in Harrodsburg for Robert Forsythe to George Miller for $3,000.

There is more talk of building a hotel, and we believe the much-needed building will be put up next spring. There's plenty of idle money in Lancaster to do this, and if that detestable idea of sinking cash in every out-of-town scheme that comes along will only be cast aside, Lancaster can be made the best town in the state.

The exhibition given by Sparks circus in this city was the best seen here in many years. While the organization was a small one, yet the performers were far above the average. A big crowd attended.

It will only cost ten thousand dollars to put the court house in good shape, and, unless this is done, the county will soon have to go to the expense of building a new one. Remember the old saw about a stitch in time.

Mr John Ballard has re-rented the Anderson property, on Danville street, and will continue to run an up-to-date hotel and boarding house during next year. He has been quite successful during the past year and given satisfaction to the public.

Last Excursion.

The last Sunday excursion to Cincinnati will be run by the L and N next Sunday morning, train leaving the Lancaster depot at five a.m. Fare only $1.50 for the round trip. A large crowd will go.

Stock Sold.

The Logan Dry Goods Co., has sold its stock to Messrs Robert W Brown and brother, who will continue the business at the old stand. They are merchants of experience and will run an up-to-date store.

Much Good Accomplished.

Large congregations hear the sermons at the Christian church every night, while many attend the afternoon services. Rev Mr Pounds has aroused great interest by his interest sermons, and, aside from a general awakening among members, several have united with the church. As stated in last issue, the singing by Miss Hanks is greatly enjoyed and adds much to the services. At this writing it has not been determined when the meeting will close.

Effects of Enforcing the Law.

Although there was a tremendous crowd in town to see the circus, there was not the slightest disturbance of any kind, and no arrest. A circus always brings in more or less of the hoodlum element, who get drunk and create trouble, and the marked difference was greatly appreciated by our people. This only goes to show what can be done when the public is given to understand that the law is going to be enforced, and no favorites played.

Only the two regular officers were on duty show day—Beazley and Herron, while heretofore on such occasions half a dozen or more were sworn in.

Military Openings.

The regular openings of fall and winter military took place Saturday, but the inclement weather kept many of the ladies away. However, the stores of Mrs Ada Kinnaird and Mrs Alexander Walker were crowded most all day, and many of the handsome hats were sold. These establishments are chock full of the prettiest and most stylish creations in ladies' headwear, and none better are more stylish can be found anywhere. It is all foolishness to go to the city to buy military when such up-to-date, and stylish goods can be found right here at home, and The Record is satisfied that no orders will sent away after the ladies see what our home milliners have in stock, and the prices they are offering for.

To Repair Court House.

As has been frequently stated in the columns of The Record, the Garrard county court house is in a badly dilapidated and dangerous condition. The building having become so near totally unfit for use, county Judge A D Ford called a meeting of the fiscal court, and, after a thorough inspection, by the court, superintended by an expert architect, the court ordered a vote taken for the purpose of issuing bonds to the extent of ten thousand dollars to have the building put in habitable shape, and safe for the keeping of many valuable records therein.

The vaults are not only too small, but in case the house should burn they would not withstand the heat and all contents would be burned and an incalculable and irreparable loss inflicted upon the citizens. The cupola has so decayed that a stiff wind is liable to blow it down or dislodge some of the timbers and hurt some person to such an extent that a damage suit would cost the taxpayers far more than the cost of repairing and remodeling the building. As the cupola stands, it is impossible to repair it and make it safe, and to do this and neglect the many other needed repairs would be absolute nonsense. Under the proposed plans, the offices can be enlarged, the county and circuit court rooms made comfortable and the vaults made fire and burglar proof. A new and modern cupola can be constructed and the building made the handsomest and most comfortable in the state. For a county of Garrard's wealth to have an old rattle-trap like the present court house is a disgrace, and we believe that every citizen in the county, who has any pride or business judgment will vote for the bond issue. It will not take long to pay the debt, and the taxpayers will never miss the money. Aside from the many other reasons why this work should be done, the fact that some one is going to get hurt by the dilapidated old cupola and sue the county should cause the people to become interested in the matter and see that the question is carried in favor of having the work done.

"THE OLD PIONEER"

Capt. Sam M. Beebe, Remembered and Beloved by our People, Writes Record
a Good Letter

Dayton, O., Sep. 10, 1906

Mr. Editor: Some time since, you requested me to favor you with a communication, and as I have a few minutes leisure now I most gladly attempt to perform the pleasing duty. What is transpiring here (although one of the most beautiful places in the United States) would in no wise interest the readers of your most excellent journal. Therefore, if you will pardon and at the same time gratify me, you will allow me to type my text in Old Kentucky, for it is remembered: "I was bred and born in Old Kentucky." God ever bless her. I have been out of the state for sixteen months, but by the aid of the "Press," which I read daily, I have not lost sight of a people whose peace-prosperity and happiness (while mine is gone) shall ever be the burden of my song. I love with a child-like simplicity and devotion the memory of her statesmen both living and dead. I have also for her soldiers, no matter where they fought, an admiration I cannot fully express in human words, for all will admit that braver men never flashed a sword in the sunbeam, or formed for the fray in battle line. But most of them are getting old and gray now. Yet they leave a legacy to posterity (and to be found in the discharge of duties well performed and under the banners representing their convictions) a halo as bright and as lasting as the sunshine itself and it will grow even brighter, and brighter as the years "go rolling on." Generations yet to be will read the men, and of the times in which they figured, awarding to each the proper need of praise, denying it to none.

Let me say, en passant, that I would not disparage the claims of any living man who may feel inclined to serve the people in any official capacity. But may I not be pardoned when I suggest what seems reasonable propriety? Would it not be well always (every thing being equal) in the selection of men to fill high, honorable and responsible positions, to give the preference to the aged and experienced? I take it to be true, that the aged and experienced statesman should always have the call over the young and inexperienced—"Experts crude." The people of Kentucky in the coming primary election which is to decide who shall represent them in the United States Senate, have a picture before them now of what I am trying to draw and cast with proper colorings on the canvas, so that all men may read as they run. On the one side stands the peerless time-tried and fire tested, democrat, the Hon. Jas. McCreary, ripe in years and experience and who was, and before his competitor ever saw the light of day, working and most gallantly fighting the battles of his party. The people have weighed him in the balances of public confidence and the edict of a well satisfied constituency says, there is nothing wanting, "Well done thou good and faithful." But they say he has been honored. Grant it. Yet I can and do say with no desire to shock the modesty of the distinguished gentleman, he well deserved those honors and has always won his spurs on a fair, tough field, appealing to and receiving the endorsement of the people who are the sovereigns in this country. Some men make mistakes (Governor Beekham is doing it now.) I know I have and do, but in all the public services rendered by Mr. McCreary to his State and the Federal Union as well, I defy mortal man to point me to one flaw spot or blemish that would in any wise tarnish the shining letters on his shield. Let me place those letters before you in capitals, Honest, Capable, Faithful, Brave and True. If Kentucky follows precedents and time honored customs, she will speak in this primary in thunder tones endorsing most heartily and gladly a return of Jas. B. McCreary to the United States Senate. If she should do less, I shall feel deeply mortified at her stupidity. But the faith that in me lies enables me to see with prophetic keen the loyal sons of my native state marching grandly up to the discharge of duty, giving merit its just and well deserved rewards. I am, Sir

Very Cordially Yours,
S. M. Boone,

Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Joe Palmer, Sr., was stricken by paralysis, a second stroke following in about an hour. His entire body is affected, and as this is written there is no hope of his recovery.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

Parties Visit Farm at Hyattsville, Dig
Up Box From Under Old Stump and Disappear During Night.

Saturday morning, Mr. John Goodloe, who runs a farm at Hyattsville, telephoned County Judge Ford that a new-made grave had been found near the cabin across the road from his home, and to send some one to investigate. Judge Ford sent Chief of Police, J A Beazley, who took some buns to open the supposed grave.

The mound of fresh dirt was along side an old locust stump, about ten feet from the spot where the residence of the late Elijah Hiatt stood. When about two feet of the loose dirt was removed, matches were found showing that instead of burying a body, the parties had been looking for something.

At a depth of about three feet, the diggers had tunneled under the stump. Here the soft soapstone had been removed and the impression of a box, about four by eight inches could be plainly seen. The opening showed that the stone had been carefully chiseled out when the box was placed there. Roots of the stump had grown in every direction, but were so decayed that they were easily broken away by the mysterious diggers. The earth showed that it had been dug the night before by a keen, new digger, and that it had left un disturbed for so many years the digger was only driven in an inch or so at each stroke. Those who have looked at the hole say the box had evidently been placed there anywhere from fifty to seventy-five years ago. Now the question is what was in the box, who placed it there, and who were the mysterious visitors? A family of negroes live within fifty yards of the spot, but did not hear any one that night. Mr. Goodloe says, he is satisfied work was not begun until after eleven o'clock. A representative of The Record, accompanied by Dr. J B Kinnaird, visited the spot, Sunday, and on careful estimate concluded that two men could not have made the excavation inside of three hours. The stump which is almost completely gone, stands about ten feet west of where the Hiatt residence stood. This house was burned during the civil war, and at that time was occupied by the late Moses Collier. Many theories are advanced, but the one most generally accepted is that the box contained gold, the owner having left it there and told descendants who came from a distance to get it. Two strange men were at Hyattsville Friday all day, and bought lunch at Mr. Hurt's store. The matter has attracted wide attention, and many have visited the spot. The contents of the box, and identity of the visitors will likely forever remain a mystery.

A Wise Selection.

The democrats in this section are greatly pleased with the election of Col W B Haldeman of Louisville, as member of the State Central and Executive Committee. He is an honest, conscientious gentleman, honored and respected by all who have the pleasure of his acquaintance.

Farmer's Institute Postponed.

Hon W D Claybrook, of Springfield, was here Monday and made arrangements with County Judge Ford for the holding of the Farmers' Institute in this city, but later a telegram was received stating that as the State Development Association would be in session at Winchester at the time selected, it had been decided to hold the meetings at a later date. Due notice will be given in The Record of time of meeting.

J. W. NEWMAN.

Announces Himself a Candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture.

To the Democrats of Kentucky:
Subject to the action of the State Democratic primary, called for the sixth day of November 1906, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics, and ask for your support.

Kentucky is in the main an agricultural state. Her prosperity depends primarily upon the prosperity of her farmers. Her manufacturers depend upon the farmer to buy and consume their products, and hence the daily laborer, mechanic, merchant or banker reaps a benefit from the farmer's prosperity. In my opinion there is no state office that affects more directly the general welfare of our people than that of Commissioner of Agriculture. This State is just beginning to realize the importance of its agricultural interests and the necessity of building them up so that they may keep pace with its manufacturing and mining interests. The farmers pay the greatest portion of the taxes and have asked for but little to now believe the State authorities and assist them in every possible way. To this end they believe we should have a farmer for a Commissioner.

I believe my record in the General Assembly of Kentucky both as a member of the House of Representatives and as a member of the Senate is sufficient evidence that I have the farmer's interests at heart. It was my pleasure to introduce and see passed the bill providing for a free farmer's institute in each county of the Commonwealth, a bill to prevent the adulteration of bran and other commercial feed stuffs so the consumer would not be imposed upon, and other agricultural measures of equal importance. In fact there was no bill in the Legislature that was for the farming interest that I was not found fighting for its passage.

If elected to this office I pledge what ability and what energy I may possess toward upbuilding the agricultural interests of the state, as well as doing my duty as Commissioner of Labor.

I submit my claims to the Democrats of Kentucky, believing a farmer should be at the head of the agricultural interests of the State, believing my experience in the agricultural colleges of both Kentucky and Colorado and my experience as a farmer and legislator fit me for the place, and believing that as Commissioner I can serve my party and my State.

J. W. Newman.

Mr. Newman is a successful farmer and an equally successful business man, a man who thinks, and who is deeply interested in the welfare of the Kentucky farmer. He is a true and faithful Democrat. We believe he would make the office of Commissioner of Agriculture of great value to the farmer and one of the most important departments of the State government. His record in both houses of the legislature shows him to be a man of brains and resources, and knowing how highly he is regarded throughout the State it looks to us as if his nomination is a foregone conclusion.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also relieves the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by R. E. Important To Voters.

On November 6th there will be two voting places in each precinct—one for the regular election of a Congressman and one for the nomination of a Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator, &c. Those who intend to vote in the primary election, should read rule second, adopted by the Democratic State Executive Committee, which is as follows, and which reminds the voter of the fact that an election of a Congressman is being held on the same day:

Rule 2. In said election any known Democrat who will be a legal voter on the 6th day of November, 1906 and who shall have registered as a Democrat (where registration is required by law), and who shall have voted for a Democratic nominee for congress on November 6th, 1906, shall be entitled to vote in said primary, and it shall be the duty of the judges of election, at each precinct, to proclaim to the voter the question: "Have you voted for the Democratic nominee for Congress to day?" and if the voter shall answer in the affirmative he shall be allowed to vote; but he answer in the negative, he shall not be allowed to vote in said primary.

The resolution allowing young men who will be legal voters November 6th, 1906 to vote in said primary is in conflict with the statutes and shall be rescinded.

Miss Kay Jenkins was badly frightened by a shepherd dog, while returning home from shopping one afternoon last week. Miss Jenkins was walking leisurely along, when on looking around she perceived a dog was following her. She began running and screaming. This infuriated the dog and he immediately attacked her, tearing all of her clothing from her person. Mr. Jenkins, on hearing the commotion, came and rescued her from the teeth of the vicious dog by plating a bullet in the dog's brain. Such dogs should not be allowed on the public highway.

There's grave danger from the plague of Coughs and Colds that are prevalent, unless you take Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Hay For Farm Horses.

Farm work horses should be fed just the amount of hay which they will clean up rapidly. It should be fed early in the morning after watering and before feeding grain. At noon, in hot weather, when there is much work to be done, it should be withheld or but a pound or so allowed after a sip of water and while the horse is cooling off before getting his noon feed of grain. At night it should be liberally fed after the grain ration has been masticated. The hay should be of good quality and should be wet if dusty. The amount fed should be increased when work decreases. Where in summer time ten or twelve pounds a day will suffice, the winter amount may be doubled as the grain ration is decreased. During the hard working season it is not the amount of food eaten, but the amount digested and assimilated, that counts—Farmers' Sentinel.

An Awful Cough Cured.

"Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing, just like one with the whooping cough and some thought she would not get well at all. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat," writes Mrs. Ora Bussard, Brubaker, Ill. This remedy is for sale by R. E. McRoberts The reliable druggist at Lancaster.

MESSAGE FROM MISSIONARIES.
Workers in China Send Out an Appeal to Mission Societies.

The following letter has recently been sent to the members of the foreign mission boards and societies in all Christian lands, and is signed by 22 missionaries of various boards with missionaries in Shanghai:

"Students are the most influential class in China, and heretofore they have been also the most conservative. There is no better index of the change which has come over the empire than the recent remarkable exodus of the 8,620 Chinese students to Japan. Probably there has not been in the history of the world any such migration of students from one country to another in an equally brief period. These students are from all parts of the empire, and belong to the educated and official classes. They are bound in the future to influence mightily every missionary interest throughout China."

"The students are living in Tokio amidst dangerous conditions, tending both toward extreme radicalism and great immorality. The good influences which might come from Japan are practically shut off from them, because the Chinese students have but little Japanese or English, while the Japanese do not speak Chinese."

"There are in Japan a number of revolutionary Chinese politicians who are filling the minds of the students with fanatical anti-Christian and anti-foreign ideas. The students are, therefore, in danger of becoming a real menace to China, and are a serious hindrance to the missionary enterprise."

"The general committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of China, Korea, and Hong Kong, has determined upon making an effort in their behalf. The Shanghai Missionary Association appointed a committee to call the attention of the boards of missions throughout the world to this great need, and to ask their hearty cooperation with the Young Men's Christian Association in this enterprise. The recent cooperation of the missionaries with the Japanese troops in Manchuria affords a valuable example as to the results of such cooperation."

Contributions may be sent to the honorary treasurer, Rev. A. J. Walker, Shanghai; or to the national committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of England and America.

TO PROBE MISSIONS.

S dictate of Daily Newspapers Sends Out Representative.

No big business of bringing the Kingdom closer to the world is evoking various forms of present-day Christian activity. The latest of these is a first-hand study of foreign mission work, all around the world, in behalf of a syndicate of daily newspapers in the United States and Canada, by Mr. William T. Ellis, one of the editors of the Philadelphia Press. Mr. Ellis goes as a trained investigator, with the avowed purpose of telling, in popular form, exactly what he finds. Just what foreign missions are doing or failing to do, how they work and in what conditions, and the sort of men and women who represent the American churches abroad, will be reported with the utmost frankness by Mr. Ellis.

His tour, which began at San Francisco, June 13, will include Hawaii, Japan, Korea, China, Philippines, Ceylon, Burma, India, Egypt, Persia, Syria, and the Holy Land, Turkey and Europe. Nine months will be consumed in the journey. Mr. Ellis is not sent by any missionary body, but goes independently on a strictly journalistic mission. Whatever of a religious nature is likely to interest the American public comes properly within the field of his survey. The various missionary boards and international religious organizations have expressed a cordial interest in this project, and a desire to cooperate with it.

Church Union in England. Union of an organic nature among the three smaller of the Methodist denominations in England—the United Methodist Free Churches, the Methodist New Connexion, and the Bible Christian Methodists, of which the first is more than twice the size of either of the other two—is about to be consummated, says the Record of Christian Work. All together, they number more than 160,000 members, with over 700 ministers, and nearly 2,500 chapels. The three bodies, which are now separate, will be merged into one.

A good programme for hay making and one which I endeavor to carry out is about as follows: Cut the latter part of day, as much as can be taken care of the next afternoon, this to be governed of course by the amount of help at hand. Begin cutting by ten a. m. the next day if the weather is clear. By one or two p. m., begin hauling to the barn. Clean up if possible all that is down. Have a team cutting for next day and so on each day.

For the Babies. Rev. Robert J. Burdette, of the Temple church, Los Angeles, Cal., declares that he does not believe in treating babies in Baptist homes as if they were little pagans until they are 10 or 12 years old. He accordingly holds "name services," as he calls them, in which the child is consecrated to God's service, a brief portion of Scripture being read, a charge to the parents delivered, and a prayer of consecration offered.

Mistaken Theory.

"Women," remarked the keen observer, "have a wonderfully acute sense of humor."

"But," protested the contrary person, "it has long been the universal belief that women have no sense of humor at all."

"And right there is where the universal believers go lame," rejoined the k. o. "Why, everybody knows that only a woman can see anything to laugh at when a measly banana peel on the sidewalk gets busy and takes a fall out of a man."—Chicago Daily News.
